

Involvement in public, private, and environmental education for over thirty years, Ann hopes and strives for a just and balanced world where kindness, happiness, and peace prevail.